ELIZABETH AND PAT MET THROUGH MUTUAL FRIENDS shortly before Pat moved to Kansas City for a job. They spent time together on his visits home and eventually Elizabeth invited him on a group trip to San Francisco and Napa Valley. "That was when we really realized we wanted to be together," Elizabeth recalls. "Our wedding song was 'I Left My Heart in San Francisco!'"

Elizabeth will always remember the moment they first saw each other on their wedding day, but it's a funnier story than most. "Pat had his back to me, on the terrace of the Four Seasons Hotel, with the Arch in the background on a beautiful day," Elizabeth said. "I couldn't wait for him to turn around! When he did, he was so nervous that he began telling about the wedding tasks he had accomplished that morning, so I would know everything was taken care of. I said, 'Forget that. What do you think of my dress?'"

Pat was surprised by his new bride with a bagpiper at the church to celebrate his family's Irish heritage and two "Berry" flavored cocktails were created for the reception.

The couple took a honeymoon trip to France and makes their home in St. Louis.

TWO SOLOISTS SANG ELIZABETH'S FAVORITE SONG, CON TE PARTIRO, FOR HER WALK DOWN THE AISLE.
